

Diversity Network Groups (DNGs) are organizations of Lexmark employees who voluntarily come together with the goal of making Lexmark an even better place to work by celebrating and bringing awareness to our diverse employee population. By providing an opportunity for networking, mentoring, community outreach and other business resource activities, the groups help their members become well-informed, more satisfied and effective in all areas of their lives. Our employees share a passion for strengthening the business by fostering a more inclusive environment.
